

Together in Community, Creating Lasting Change Through Clean Water

Training for Long-Term Water Success

As part of our commitment to long-term sustainability, Tanzania Life Project staff recently joined a Bahi Makulu Village training led by the governmental water agency (RUWASA) and the local water committee (CBWSO) for Distribution Point (DP) attendants, alongside village council members and local leaders.

The training focused on customer care, water source protection, financial accountability, and meter reading. TLP is helping ensure that those managing the water systems each day are well-equipped to do so effectively so clean water continues to flow for years to come.

TLP receives Charity Navigator’s PERFECT Score

Tanzania Life Project recently earned a 4-star, 100% rating from Charity Navigator, the nation’s largest nonprofit evaluator. Fewer than 1% of organizations achieve a perfect score, reflecting our commitment to transparency, stewardship, and meaningful impact.

TLP Welcomes 3 New Community Supporters

Thank you for helping bring clean water to Tanzanian communities!

Small Business. Big Heart. Real Impact.

Peter (15) and Everett (13), great-grandsons of TLP co-founders Jim and Katie Vanderheyden, started a 3-D printing business (1-2-3D Custom Creations) to make fun and useful items. But what makes their story truly special is their decision to donate a portion of their sales to Tanzania Life Project, showing that making a difference doesn’t require age, wealth, or perfection—only the willingness to start.
